

Mining 2013 Resources Convention 23, 24 & 25 October 2013 Brisbane Convention & Exhibition

It has been well documented that the Australian resources industry has been met with a number of challenges in recent times, though nothing new for an industry that has experienced plenty of momentum fluctuations in the last 100 years. However, the consistent outcome when the resources industry is challenged is that the market eventually bounces back to favourable terms.

The big question is when will the good times return?

The best way to stay on top of this question is to attend the Mining 2013 Resources Convention.

The Mining Resources Convention has, over the last 13 years, built a successful reputation of providing an environment for resources industry participants to address the current challenges while showcasing their upcoming exploration activities. With over 70 presentations and 100 exhibition booths, the event provides the perfect opportunity to stay informed on the current market conditions. Do not miss this opportunity to engage personally with Company executives and listen to highly respected resources analysts discuss when the boom times will return.

This event will be held on 23, 24 & 25 October 2013 at the Brisbane Convention & Exhibition Centre. This event is free to attend for bona-fide investors ONLY. To secure your place please email Prue McPharlin on prue@verticalevents.com.au and mention you are a subscriber of The Digger.
